YOUTH CONFERENCE

The pervading question in the weekend's bustle of activity.

Youth Conference 1960, under the direction of Rosalie Closson and Dewayne Bontrager gave hundreds of young people the opportunity to view their lives in relation to Christ. Challenging messages, inspiring music, and group devotions placed spiritual matters uppermost in the weekend activities.

The contrast between Time and Eternity is brought out in the backdrop.

FINE ARTS FESTIVAL

In the forest of Arden, four happy couples are lauded by Hymen, the god of marriage.

As You Like It, a delightful Shakespearean comedy, was presented by the Trojan Players as part of the Fine Arts Festival. Multiple levels used in staging, colorful costumes, and sensitive acting produced a superior drama.

The fool, Touchstone (J. Brain), astonishes Audrey (J. Lister) and William (F. Pomeroy), simple inhabitants of the forest of Arden.

Where next?

A teen talk group enjoys the unusual Indiana weather.

One of the vital parts of the Conference is the inspiring music.

Heading for home after a full weekend of activity and thought.

The crews are the backbone of the play.

Culture is in her element at the Fine Arts Festival. The art, drama, and music departments create beauty in line, color, and form.

A tense moment in Shakespeare's As You Like It.

Another art, music lends variety and charm to the Fine Arts Festival.

Mendelssohn's exciting work, the Elijah, was presented under the direction of Marvin Dean by the Oratorio chorus Thursday Evening of the Fine Arts Festival.

First place winners of the Festival art contests are Judy Boll, water colors, and Vernon Gay, oils.

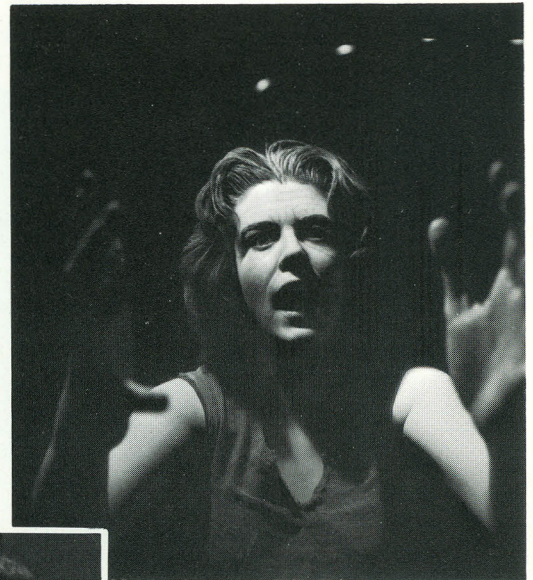

Talthybius, messenger for the victorious Greeks of the Trojan War returns the dead Astyanax for burial rites.

TROJAN WOMEN

The chorus of Trojan women give vent to their hatred of Helen, beautiful cause of their misery .

Hecuba: "I go forth from my land and all her ways are filled with fire!"

Curt Carter, parliamentarian, aids John Macoll, convention chairman, as Pat Orem, secretary, enjoys the scene.

POLITICAL CONVENTION

Delegates whoop it up at the mock political convention.

Speeches, demonstrations, and music revealed the delegates' preferences and the excitement and enthusiasm of a real convention.

Q

What is today's biggest bargain?

A

Electricity

Reddy says: "I&M electric rates have never been increased. If your electric bill is higher, it's because you're using electricity to take over so many more of your household tasks. Actually, the more you use each month, the less you pay per kilowatthour. Living better electrically costs so little, yet means so much!"
